FORECASTERS SEE LITTLE HEAT RELIEF

Terrific Explosions Rock Spanish Port City

200 REPORTED DEAD, HUNDREDS HURT IN CADIZ

Large Areas Of Town Said Levelled; Secret Torpedo Outburst Possibility

SEVILLA, Spain, Aug. 19 — A series of terrific explosions, causing casualties that some estimates placed at 200 dead and 5,000 injured, levelled large areas of the Spanish port city of Cadiz today.

With communications badly disrupted, early reports of damage done by explosion of naval torpedoes, mines, chemicals and depth charges that hurled billows of flame and smoke into the skies were fragmentary.

The first blast occurred in a dockside warehouse where chemicals were stored. It set off a chain reaction of other explosions and fires similar to the recent Texas City, Tex. disaster.

MAYOR SANCHEZ Cossio of Cadiz managed to get a telephone call out of the stricken city after many hours of delay. He said:

"The disaster struck most heavily at the San Seberian district, where 25,000 persons live, and at San Jose, where whole families were buried in their homes."

"Damage in these areas and in the whole town is enormous. Large brigades of workmen are clearing the ruins and searching for victims."

Cossio placed the start of the disaster at a warehouse comprising part of a torpedo plant.

POSSIBILITY that the Cadiz holocaust might have been produced by explosion of a former secret Nazi torpedo deposit was suggested by one opposition spokesman in Madrid.

This source stated the anti-Franco underground is positive that during the war the Nazis had secret supply bases located in caves lining the rocky Mediterranean coast.

An official of the ministry of marine contradicted this theory, however, saying the blasts occurred.

PRISONER OVERPOWERS DEPUTY AND ESCAPES

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19 — Central Ohio was the scene of a search today for John W. Shank, 27-year-old prisoner of the Franklin county jail who made a daring escape late yesterday. Shank overpowered Sheriff's Deputy Henry C. Gland, Jr., 27, when taken to a dentist's office for treatment. He escaped with the deputy's .38 caliber revolver.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

Good times are on the wane—some 1942 cars are down to the price of 1947 models.

And old Bill Green says our prosperity is temporary, a warning that may frighten millions into staying on the job.

But when we have plenty of leisure it will be nice to look back on the days when so many took plenty of leisure.

Of more moment is the campaign against long skirts. No bow-legged girls are identified with the opposition.

The feeling seems to be that the long skirt is a waste of good material, namely nylon.

Like roses the opponents in the long-skirt, short-skirt foray can be identified by their stunts.

In a situation like this any man is neutral against the long skirt.

Circleville Has First Polio Case In Years; William Shirey, 2, Ill

Circleville had its first polio case in several years Tuesday.

William Geary Shirey, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shirey, 130 West Water street, was receiving treatment in Children's hospital, Columbus, for the disease.

The youngster was taken to the hospital Monday evening after Dr. J. M. Hedges diagnosed his illness as infantile paralysis. Further diagnosis at the hospital confirmed Dr. Hedges' report.

Dr. Hedges said the youngster seemed to be in "good" condition. Paralysis is limited to his right leg, he said.

The tot has a sister, 8, and a brother, 4 months old.

BIS ESCAPEES BIND, GAG, ROB WOMAN OF $16

LANCASTER, O., Aug. 19 — A trio of escapees from the boys industrial school at Lancaster, who bound, gagged and robbed a 55-year-old woman, were lodged in the Fairfield county jail today while authorities continued a search for a fourth escapee.

Still at large was Robert Burnside, 16, Dayton, who walked away from the BIS at noon yesterday with three other youths. The three recaptured were Elmer Hobson, 18, Cleveland; Mac Gordon, 16, Akron; and Thomas Balzer, 18, Columbus.

Authorities said that Hobson, Gordon and Balzer invaded the home of Miss Grace Broderick, who lives alone two miles northeast of Lancaster and three miles from the institution, early last night.

They bound the woman to a chair, gagged her and spent two hours searching the house futilely for men's clothing to replace their BIS uniforms. When they took $16 from her purse and left, they gave her instructions for freeing herself.

Miss Broderick loosed herself and went to a neighbor's for help. The trio was found a short time later by a posse of 25 BIS officers as they hid near Revenge.

HEAT WALKOUTS IDLE 9,600 AT CHRYSLER PLANT

DETROIT, Aug. 19 — More than 9,600 Chrysler corporation workers in Detroit were idled today by heat walkouts and parts shortages.

The heat work stoppages started at 9 a. m. this morning with 650 workers at the Dodge main plant and the Jefferson plant. By 11 a. m., 2,300 walked off their jobs and 7,360 others sent home because of the shortage of bodies.

A company spokesman said many workers asked permission to go home as the mercury rose over 92 degrees.

MAN WHO SHOT AT BRICKER IS FOUND INSANE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 — William L. Kaiser, the one-time Capitol policeman who attempted to assassinate Sen. John W. Bricker (R) O., last July 12, was committed today to St. Elizabeth hospital in Washington as mentally unsound.

District Court Judge Richmond Keach ordered Kaiser's immediate committal after a jury returned a verdict that he was of unsound mind. The jury deliberated only 15 minutes after listening to the testimony of prominent psychiatrists that the 49-year-old former Columbus, O., resident was insane and suffering from an organic brain disease.

Kaiser fired two shots at Bricker in the senate subway and told authorities, when he was captured, that he tried to kill Bricker because of losses he suffered in the closing of a Columbus savings and loan company while Bricker was attorney general of Ohio.

BERNARD BARUCH MARKS ANNIVERSARY QUIETLY

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 — Bernard M. Baruch, in excellent health, quietly observed his 77th birthday anniversary today. He spent the day at his Summer home in Port Washington, Long Island.

An extremely modest man, Baruch declined to talk for publication. He said there was to be no "birthday interview", no visit from the press. It was just another day in his life.

Baruch, who advised presidents during two wars, looked the picture of health.

GROMYKO AGAIN ACCUSES U. S.

Russian Delegate To UN Says America Trying To Bypass Agency

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 19 — Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko openly accused the United States in the security council today of attempting to "force" its "good offices" on the Indonesian republic to compel the latter to by-pass the United Nations.

The Russian representative, officially sponsoring the Indonesian Republic regime by demanding that the latter's request for a U. N. commission to supervise the truce and an arbitration body be set up without delay, charged the United States with having economic interests in Indonesia.

He declared that the United States attempt to impose its will on Indonesia outside of the UN is not only an effort to by-pass the organization but can be "dangerous."

GROMYKO ALSO charged

The Netherlands government with ignoring the United Nations and of taking advantage of every delay in the security council to pursue the hostilities in violation of the truce.

He called for expeditious decisions on the Indonesian request and claimed that the Dutch attitude in refusing a U. N. commission is "a challenge" to the security council.

Gromyko assailed the repeated offers of "good offices" to the Indonesians by the United States as "strange" and

CATTLE ON FEED IN OHIO FEWER THAN LAST YEAR

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19 — The number of cattle on feed for market in 11 corn belt states on Aug. 1 was 40 per cent larger than a year previous.

However, the Ohio cooperative crop reporting service said the increase did not extend to Ohio and Indiana. In Ohio the number was down 10 per cent while in Indiana the number was the same as last year.

The service also emphasized that the 1946 figure was a record low and that the number of cattle on feed on Aug. 1 in the corn belt area, still was 25 per cent smaller than two years ago.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 19 — U. S. Sen. Theodore G. Bilbo, seated Democratic Mississippi senator, began to grow weaker today after rallying somewhat following an operation yesterday.

RUBBER FIRMS CHARGED WITH PRICE FIXING

Government Accuses Eight Leading Manufacturers In New Attack

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 — The federal government today carried out a three-pronged attack against high prices and alleged monopolies as it pushed an investigation into the cost of living.

Striking for the second time in 24 hours against high prices, the government charged eight leading tire manufacturing concerns with entering into price-fixing agreements.

The charges were filed in a New York federal court by the justice department which at the same time asked a Los Angeles federal court to break up alleged monopoly in color films.

BOTH CASES followed action of the federal trade commission in charging the bulk of the nation's steel industry with price fixing and came just one week after a federal inquiry was ordered into the prices of food, clothing and housing.

Attorney General Clark said that the tire and film cases were part of the justice department's fight on monopolies, which President Truman repeatedly has warned are a threat to national welfare.

Eight rubber companies, one trade association and 10 rubber officials were accused of agreeing on prices, discounts, allowances, bonuses, allocation of sales, limitations on production "and other related practices for the purpose of eliminating price competition."

AN ANTI-TRUST division spokesman said the government charges that the alleged price-fixing conspiracy began in 1935-12 years ago—and that a New

U. S. TRYING TO BLOCK ECONOMIC DISCUSSIONS NOW

PETROPOLIS, Brazil, Aug. 19 — The United States delegation reacted today to a Cuban challenge with a vigorous campaign to eliminate economic issues from the inter-American defense conference. The Americans had the support of at least three Latin-American delegations in attempts to confine the deliberations to matters bearing directly on a hemispheric defense pact.

Guillermo Belt, Cuban ambassador to Washington, opposing the United States stand, introduced the question of economic plenary session and demanded safeguards against "threats and aggressions of an economic character."

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, chairman of the senate foreign affairs committee, was assigned the task of conferring with Belt.

At the same time, Secretary of State Marshall will attempt to influence Dr. Juan A. Bramuglia, Argentine foreign minister, and several other Latin-American spokesmen.

TRUCK DRIVER KILLED WHEN OIL TANK EXPLODES

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 19 — Explosion of a gasoline tank truck took the life of its driver and imperilled three storage tanks containing 45,000 gallons of gasoline, kerosene and fuel oil in Springfield early today.

Chet Anderson, Urbana, was pumping gasoline from his truck into one of the storage tanks on the city's east side just before midnight when the truck exploded with a roar.

Thuransky In New York Tells Stories of Brutal Treatment In Hungary

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 — Steve Thuransky, 54, former Ohioan who escaped from a jail in Budapest, arrived in New York today with a vivid story of brutal treatment in Hungary.

Thuransky, a naturalized citizen who went to his native Hungary to sell farm machinery, was arrested in Balassagyarmat, Aug. 1 when he made critical remarks about the government while talking with friends on the street. He explained:

"I was defending America against the dirty remarks by Communist and Social Democratic leaders."

THURANSKY, his wife, Teresa, 45, and his daughters, Margaret, 25, and Mary, 21, returned on the Marine Jumper which docked with 752 passengers.

Arrested late at night after his remarks were reported to the Hungarian gestapo, Thuransky was taken to a political jail in Budapest. There, he said, he was beaten into unconsciousness with sandbags.

Meanwhile his wife and daughters followed after him and reported his arrest to the American legation. Two days later the Hungarians tried to transfer him to another jail. He charged:

"They tried to sneak me out and take me to the so-called horror chamber."

WHEN THE attempted transfer was being made, Thuransky's wife and Harrison Lewis, commercial attaché of the American legation, were waiting outside in an automobile.

Thuransky saw them and struck out at his guards with his handcuffed fists. Nearby were two Russians, waiting in a jeep. In the melee the guards be-

TRUMAN ORDERS INTENSIVE CHECK ON DP PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 — President Truman today ordered an intensive, on-the-spot survey of the European displaced persons problem and directed a three-way shift in federal posts to speed action on the matter.

The chief executive transferred Ugo Carusi from his post as immigration and naturalization commissioner to that of special assistant to assistant Secretary of State Charles E. Saltzman.

Carusi was directed by the President to survey the entire displaced persons situation, including resettlement of DP's and administration of the presidential directive of Sept. 2, 1945, concerning the handling of war victims.

came confused and Mrs. Thuransky shoved her husband into the car.

The Thuranskys refused to say where they were given sanctuary while in hiding for the next three days before leaving Budapest for Frankfurt in the American zone in Germany.

THURANSKY said he left $25,000 in personal property behind, including $7,500 in American money in his desk.

He said that 90 per cent of the Hungarian people were pro-American and anti-Communist and wanted America "to liberate them from their liberators."

Thuransky went to Hungary as a representative of the International Harvester company, but he said he was unable to get a permit from the Hungarian government to sell farm machinery.

Following Thuransky's arrest, the state department charged the Hungarian government with violating the armistice agreement with the United States and demanded his release, but no satisfaction was obtained before the Ohioan's escape.

BRITISH REVEAL COST FIGURES OF U. S. LOAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 — British officials were disclosed today to have informed the United States for the first time of the tremendous costs to Britain of its loan clause requiring settlement of sterling debts with dollars.

A high British official said that Sir Wilfrid Eady, head of the British loan delegation to Washington, made the disclosure to Secretary of Treasury John Snyder. Snyder is heading the discussions in his capacity of chairman of the President's national advisory council.

The figure is highly secret and has never been disclosed even to the British public. The loan clause obliging Britain to settle her sterling debts with dollars became effective July 15.

Meanwhile, second day discussions on the British dollar crisis began on a secondary, or committee level.

TWO DROWN

Cold Air May Not Reach Ohio To Lower Temperatures; Showers Hinted

Forecasters today could see no break in the resurging Ohio heat wave for at least 48 hours, with any substantial relief at the end of that period depending on a few "ifs."

According to Weatherman C. G. Andrus, a cooler air mass was moving out of Canada and was slated to drop temperatures in some midwestern areas by tomorrow.

"If the cooler air mass picks up speed and gets over Ohio by Thursday, it may benefit this area," Andrus said. "However, there is a chance it will be delayed and therefore modified to a point where there will be little or no relief from high temperatures."

Andrus added that it might be better to pin hopes on relief from scattered thundershowers, beginning late today and increasing in scope and intensity tomorrow.

Circleville was one of the hottest cities in the state Monday. Weather Observer Charles Carter said the official government thermometer registered a high of 94. Low mark was 70.

Unofficial higher readings were reported and many perspiring residents refused to believe what they saw on thermometers. The intense humidity made the weather much worse than the mercury recorded.

Meanwhile, with hardly a cloud to screen the blazing sun, the mercury was climbing steadily upward again after setting a new record of 96 degrees at Cleveland and hitting into the 90's elsewhere yesterday afternoon.

OBSERVERS SEE U. S. TRYING TO RUSH RUSSIANS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 — Observers in Washington today foresee the United States as playing a diplomatic game designed to force Moscow to ratify the peace treaties with the satellite states of Europe.

This is believed to be the real issue in a series of lesser moves in Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria.

These three powers are strongly under the Russian heel. The United States and Britain have ratified peace treaties with them. They will come into force only when Russia ratifies the pacts.

However, there is a legal quirk to the situation of which the United States is said to want to take full advantage. This is the provision that all occupying troops are to be withdrawn within a given time after the treaties come into force.

Thus ratification of the treaties by Russia would force her to remove her troops from the occupied states, and weaken her control over them.

NEW YORK MAN VACATIONS BY 'TAKING WALK'

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19 — While most of the populace is trying to make a fine art of inactivity during the heat wave, a 56-year-old man told in Columbus today of spending his vacation by keeping on the move—at the rate of 50 miles a day on foot.

Jess F. Hyde arrived late yesterday from his home in Binghamton, N. Y., to visit a nephew, Jack Libertore, Columbus. He started 10 days ago and travelled all but 15 of the 500 miles under his own power. Hyde explained his way of spending a vacation by declaring, almost unnecessarily, that he likes to walk.

HIGH MARK OF 94 RECORDED IN CIRCLEVILLE

The hay fever pollen count was 193 at Columbus yesterday and 68 at Cleveland.

The humidity also was on the upgrade, making the prospects of showers more definite. There were 8.23 grains of moisture per cubic foot of air at Cleveland this morning, compared with 8.08 yesterday. The discomfort stage begins with a count of 7.50.

Andrus pointed out that this month was beginning to shape up as the hottest August on record. The temperature mean at Cleveland since the first of the month is plus-77 degrees, compared with a normal of 70 degrees. The warmest August was in 1938 with a mean of 75 degrees.

HIGH AND LOW temperatures at various points for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a. m. today were:

Akron 90-72; Chesapeake 94-74; Cincinnati 95-71; Cleveland 96-72; Columbus 92-73; Dayton 92-74; East Liverpool 89-69; Findlay 94-73; Hayesville 88-72; Parkersburg, W. Va., 90-75; Perry 91-74; Toledo 94-74; Wilmington 94-71; Youngstown 89-69; and Zanesville 90-67.

Marshall Field III, publisher of the Chicago Sun, was to be today's principal speaker. U. S. Sen. Harley F. Kilgore, West Virginia Democrat, spoke yesterday and pointed out the need for American aid for "the hungry peoples of the world who look to this nation for help."

Nomination of supreme officers also was scheduled for today with incumbent officers to move up one step. F. Roy Yoke, Parkersburg, W. Va., will become supreme governor of the world order, succeeding Leo W. Ryan, Bedford, Pa. Walter F. Gibson, Oakland, Calif., will be elevated from supreme prelate to succeed Yoke.

$400 FINE PAID HERE BY PRIEST FROM COSHOCTON

Paul Theado, a Catholic priest from Coshocton, paid a fine of $400 and costs, a total of $410.23, when arraigned before Justice H. O. Eweland Tuesday on a charge of driving an automobile when under the influence of alcohol. A charge of indecent exposure against Theado was dropped because of a lack of evidence.

Only one witness was called in the case, Mrs. Florence Iles, of Saltcreek township. She testified that she first noticed the man she identified as Theado when his car ran off the road and into the ditch in front of her home. She said he got the car out of the ditch and drove to the next-door home of the Fraunfelters where he left the car and started to climb a barbed wire dividing fence. His trousers were caught on the barbs and he ordered Mrs. Iles to come and free him. "He was acting like a wild man," she said, "so I gathered up my children and ran down the road to the Fetherolf home from where the sheriff was called."

Mrs. Iles said that when Theado got out of the car only one button was fastened on his shirt and one on his trousers. She testified that he made no deliberate attempt at exposure. She voiced belief that he was intoxicated.

Theado was represented in court by Bert Addison, Columbus. No defense witnesses were called and Theado's only utterance was a not guilty plea at the start of the procedure.

Prosecutor Robbins called on Franklin Iles, age 12, for testimony, but when the boy became frightened by court procedure and dignity he was dismissed without testifying to more than his name and age.

AIR-SEA HUNT CONTINUES FOR CRASH VICTIMS

HONOLULU, Aug. 19—George C. Atcheson Jr., and three other men lost in an Army bomber crash off Hawaii, as well as wreckage possibly containing secret state papers, were the objects today of a continuing air-sea search.

The hunt was pressed while Army officials in Hawaii sought to determine the cause of the tragedy that took ten lives and robbed the United States of its outstanding diplomatic expert on Japan.

One member said the ultimate fate of the Marshall plan may hinge on the committee's findings, since congress holds the purse strings.

Announcing the trips, Bridges said:

"The purpose of the trip is to view the results of expenditures made to date and to determine the need of the continued large outlay of U. S. taxpayers' funds for the stabilization of Europe."

Goodrich Company, Akron; General Tire and Rubber Company, Akron; Dayton Rubber Company, Dayton, Ohio; Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Akron; U. S. RUBBER, FILM AND STEEL COMPANY OFFICIALS DENIED THE GOVERNMENT CHARGES AND DECLARED THEY WOULD FIGHT THEM IN THE COURTS.

William O'Neill, president of the General Tire and Rubber Company, replied that the suit "just doesn't make sense." He said tires were selling 2.4 percent below postwar levels and declared that "we shall fight through the courts every charge of unfair dealing."

E. J. Thomas, president of Goodyear, issued a similar statement in which he declared that "it seems utterly preposterous."

J. L. Cochran, vice-president of Seiberling declined immediate comment, but said "we strongly believe there is no justification for the charges."

Herbert E. Smith, president of U. S. Rubber, termed the charges "incredible."

UNION OFFICIALS MUST SAY THEY ARE NOT REDS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 — The national labor relations board ruled today that failure of a single officer of the AFL or CIO to file an affidavit disavowing Communism will bar the organizations' thousands of local unions from using Wagner act machinery.

NLRB General Counsel Robert Denham said the Taft-Hartley law, which goes into effect Friday, requires such labor bigwigs as CIO president Philip Murray, AFL president William Green and mine chief John L. Lewis to sign affidavits certifying themselves to be non-Communists.

Denham estimated that if all the unions in the country, national and local, designed to practice before the NLRB, the board would have to obtain non-Communist affidavits from 500,000 union officers.

He described the situation as "the most difficult mechanical problem we have to handle."

The new labor statute provides that union officers must file such affidavits before the NLRB can process a petition for a collective bargaining election, issue an unfair labor practice complaint, or entertain a petition for a union shop referendum.

Except for the one unconfirmed estimate of 200 dead and 5,000 injured there was little except guesswork. Officials said no real estimate was possible at this time, all sources merely stating the toll would be "terrific."

RAILWAY, telegraph and telephone systems were virtually paralyzed. Newsmen and photographers were barred from the entire area by the Spanish military.

Survivors were quoted as saying that whole buildings were lifted into the air by the series of terrific underground blasts. Rescue work was hampered by the fact that Cadiz was plunged into darkness by the blasts last night but enormity of the damage became apparent with break of day.

Gromyko said that the American offer was resumed again at the moment when the Indonesian government requested an arbitration commission from the security council.

IN BRANDING the United States move as a dangerous step to by-pass the United Nations, Gromyko stated:

"The people of the United Nations expect and wait for the moment when the security council will take effective action to restore peace and order in Indonesia."

"The council must take mediation and arbitration into its own hands. Nothing else will correspond with the desires of the people of Indonesia and of the world."

GIRLS, YOUTH FEARED VICTIMS OF DROWNING

Rescue Crews Still Hunt
Bodies In Ohio River
Near Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Aug. 19 — Two teen-age girls and a 20-year-old boy were presumed drowned today in the Ohio river at Cincinnati.

They were identified as Martha Colster, 17; Helen Bodley, 16, and Charles Singler, all of Cincinnati.

The Bodley girl's brother, Walter, 14, narrowly escaped drowning when he answered his sister's cry for help as she floundered in the river last evening.

Police and fire rescue squads worked under floodlights all during the night in an attempt to recover the bodies. They were continuing their grappling operations today.

THE BODLEY boy said the two girls and the youth went too far from shore and suddenly disappeared, apparently in a sink-hole. He said his sister rose to the surface and screamed for help.

Bodley declared he went to his sister's rescue and grabbed her, but that he had to relinquish his hold when his left arm could not stand the strain. The arm had been broken and had just been taken out of a cast.

The boy finally went home and told his family, but he said he was unable to explain what had happened to Singler and the Colster girl.

WHAT IS AN FHA PROPERTY ANALYSIS?

For those who wish to buy a home, an FHA appraisal of the property is one of the best protective measures against possibly inflated realty prices in today's market.

FHA takes an unbiased view of the market. FHA does not recognize purely speculative prices—prices which may be due solely to a current shortage of houses.

Before you buy, consult us about the FHA-Insured Mortgage Plan. Let us show you how FHA's analysis of the site and neighborhood, as well as FHA's inspections of the property for compliance with minimum property standards, operates to the benefit of prospective buyers. FHA terms may be for as long as 20 years on older properties and 25 years on newly built homes, and the mortgage may cover from 80% to 90% of valuation. Convenient monthly payments include a payment on principal, interest, fire and hazard insurance, taxes and other fixed charges.

'BEST DRIVER' DOES NOT EVEN OWN AUTOMOBILE

MANSFIELD, O., Aug. 19—The "Best driver" in Mansfield is a bearded, 63-year-old gardener who doesn't even own an automobile.

He is Hugh K. Fekner, who topped some 400 other drivers in driving tests conducted as part of a safety campaign. His alertness, skill and coordination on the testing device were rated superior to those of 25-year-old drivers.

Fekner said he has been driving "at intervals" for 35 years. He attributed his nerves to good living habits, stating that "I don't drink or smoke and I eat good food and sleep regular hours."

Gen. Zebulon Montgomery Pike, for whom Pike's peak, in Colorado was named, first called the peak "North mountain."

Mr. Kneisley said that "we must have faith in the things that are real. The going will be rocky at times but we must see it through. Our democracy demands our attention and we can accomplish something through our churches, homes and schools."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—Whatever else happens in 1948, one thing appears certain—even to the capital's political prophets, who were so lost in the humid lethargy of dog days that for a while they overlooked the full import of certain recent developments.

The seeming certainty is this: No one is going to follow Harry Truman into the White House by the same pathway the President trod.

In passing, it would be said that this is not a comment on the death of the president's predecessor, but a pointing-out of the process by which Mr. Truman became vice-president.

Despite routine geographic and political considerations and run-of-the-mill convention shenanigans, the real reason Harry Truman got the high sign for the second-in-command slot four years ago was the fame he had accumulated as chairman of the senate war investigating committee.

And, as a direct result of the Howard Hughes war contract investigations, that committee is extremely unlikely to survive another congressional session. In fact, already it seems to be struggling in its death throes—and its demise has dimmed the dreams of many a presidential hopeful.

If there exists in anyone's mind the slightest doubt as to the high regard in which service on the senatorial probing body once was held by certain White House aspirants, a little reciting of history should dispel it.

Along with several other special groups of questionable value, the committee was given the old one-two by the congressional reorganization act—that legislative streamlining measure which was outlined by lawmakers LaFollette and Monroney, okayed by both houses and described as just what the taxpayer ordered.

Thus, for a short time during the early part of the eightieth session, the senate war investigating committee suffered from a serious case of rigor mortis—until several Republicans suddenly remembered that it once had been popularly termed the "Truman war investigating committee". And they knew where Truman was.

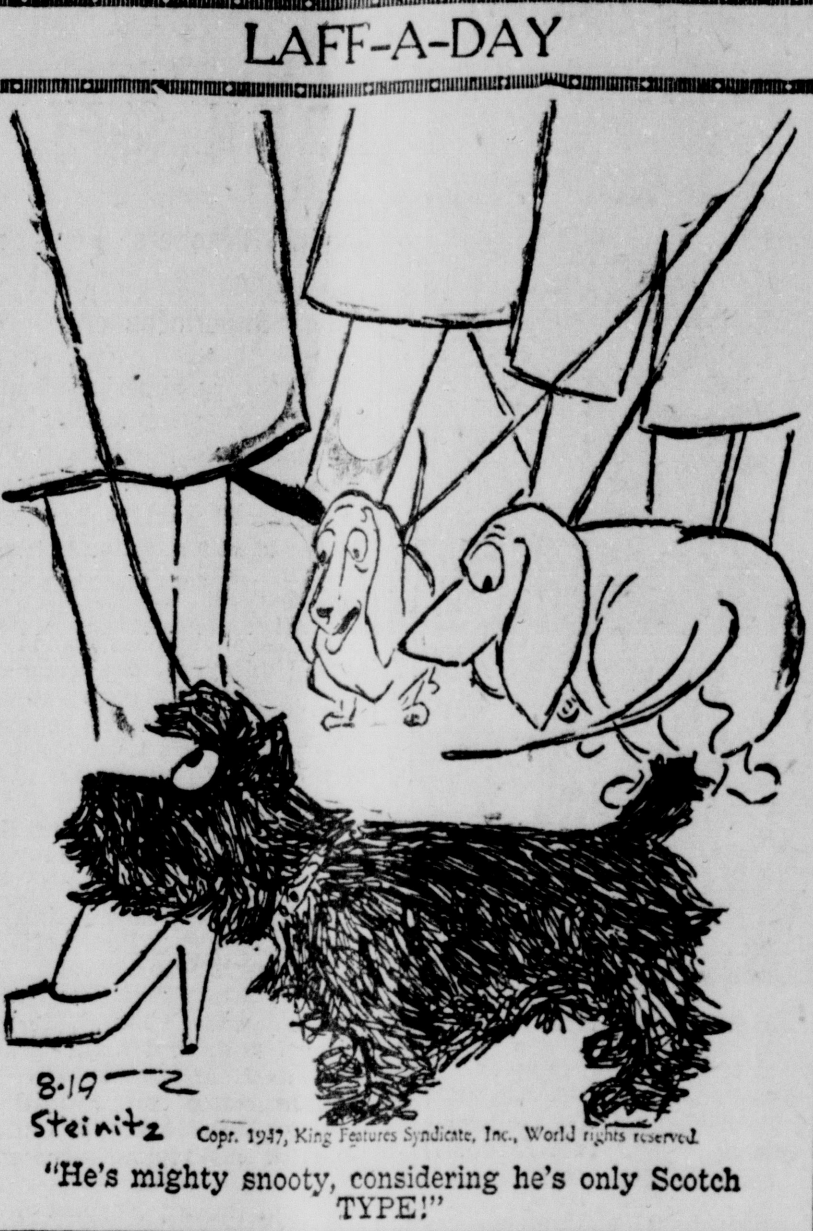

What followed is undeniable history. Despite the Democratic protests against sabotaging the reorganization act "just to besmirch the Roosevelt" regime, the G.O.P. leadership worked diligently and determinedly to re-create the committee which had put one man in the White House. They were successful, by a precariously slim margin.

To underscore the import of that artificial respiration, it might be mentioned that as soon as Senator Owen Brewster (R-Maine) was named the committee's chairman, he promptly was prominently mentioned as possible presidential timber in 1948. So much for that.

To return to current events, nobody around Capitol Hill actually believes the committee is going to resume the Hughes probe in November. For one thing, already it has resulted in outspoken charges against one senator (Brewster) which are far more serious than anything the committee itself sought to uncover.

For another, largely due to the misman-

PUT HIM ON YOUR SIDE
AMONG THE most pleasing plays a declarer can make are those whereby he makes one defender do part of his work for him, or in effect put the opponent on his side. One of these devices, of extremely rare occurrence, consists of making one of them throw the other into the lead when that poor worthy can do nothing except help you with his return. Careful card reading to see the approach of such a situation is fundamental to executing the maneuver, unless the declarer simply stumbles onto it through luck.

South really bid that 3-No Trumps all by himself, as the only bid out of his partner was compelled by the double. That spade response showed nothing in high cards and merely had the virtue of showing that North had several pieces of cardboard in South's shortest suit. His final bid for game was not too over-ambitious, however, as he knew himself as the best card player at the table and had seven tricks set up probably to begin with.

What fatal mistake is South in danger of making if he plays too fast for his 6-Clubs doubled after the heart K wins and the club J is returned?

DIET AND HEALTH

Causes, Treatment of Edema

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
WHEN fluids which should be taken up by the kidneys and excreted, collect in the tissues, the patient is said to be suffering from edema. Edema may develop for various reasons, usually because of failure of an important organ to function properly. One cause is the failure of the heart to keep up the circulation properly. According to Dr. Robert H. McDonald, and his co-workers, of Cleveland, Ohio, the most common form of edema is that due to heart failure, and this is the easiest form to treat.

First of all, in the treatment of edema due to heart failure, bed rest is necessary, but this should not be prolonged. The patient with heart failure is nearly always more comfortable in a sitting or semi-sitting position. The patient's position should be changed several times daily, and he usually may be permitted to sit in a chair from one to two hours each day.

Doses of Digitalis
The drug known as digitalis is employed in most instances, and it may be taken by mouth. Of course the physician will have to decide just what doses of the drug should be employed and how it should be given.

Another form of treatment is the restricting of salt in the diet. The simplest way of doing this is to avoid the use of salt in cooking and not to eat any salted meat, fish or bread. This will cut the salt intake by two-thirds. By including the use of salt-free bread and butter, the salt intake may be reduced to about one-tenth of what is normally used. Such salt-free diets may be distasteful to the patient, in which

CHAPTER FORTY-SIX
GERDA ROLLED over to the side of the bed and sat up. Her head felt a little better now, but she was still glad that she hadn't gone with the others on the picnic. It was peaceful and almost comforting to be alone in the house for a bit.

Elsie, of course, had been very kind—very kind—especially at first. To begin with, Gerda had been urged to stay in bed for breakfast, trays had been brought up to her. Everybody urged her to sit in the most comfortable armchair, to put her feet up, not to do anything at all strenuous.

They were all so sorry for her about John. She had stayed, and, after all, she was grateful for the protective dim haze. She hadn't wanted to think, or to feel, or to remember.

But now, every day, she felt it coming nearer—she'd have to start living again, to decide what to do, where to live. Already Elsie was showing a shade of impatience in her manner. "Oh, Gerda, don't be so slow!"

It was all the same as it had been—long ago, before John came and took her away. They all thought her slow and stupid. There was nobody to say, as John had said, "I'll look after you."

Her head ached and Gerda thought, I'll make myself some tea.

She went down to the kitchen and put the kettle on. It was nearly boiling when she heard a ring at the front door.

The maids had been given the day off. Gerda went to the door and opened it. She was astonished to see Henrietta's maid, looking car drawn up to the curb and Henrietta herself standing on the doorstep.

"Why, Henrietta!" she exclaimed. She fell back a step or two. "Come in, I'm afraid my sister and the children are out but—"

Henrietta cut her short.

"Good! I'm glad I wanted to get you alone. Listen, Gerda, what did you do with the holster?"

Gerda stopped. Her eyes looked suddenly vacant and uncomprehending. She said, "Holster?"

Then she opened a door on the right of the hall.

"You'd better come in here. I'm afraid it's rather dusty. You see, we haven't had much time this morning—"

Henrietta interrupted again urgently.

She said, "Listen, Gerda, you've got to tell me. Apart from the holster everything's all right—absolutely watertight. There's nothing to connect you with the business. I found the revolver where you'd shoved it into that thicket by the pool. I hid it in a place where you couldn't possibly have put it—and there are fingerprints on it which they'll never identify. So there's only the holster; I must know what you did with that?"

She paused, praying desperately that Gerda would react quickly. She had no idea why she had this vital sense of urgency, but it was there. Her car had not been followed—she had made sure of that. She had started on the London road, had filled up at a garage and had mentioned that she was on her way to London. Then, a little farther on, she had swung across country until she had reached a main road leading south to the coast.

Henrietta said gently: "But it was all over." Gerda shook her head. "No. She came there and pretended that she hadn't seen John for years—but I saw John's face. . . . He went out with her. I went up to bed. I lay there trying to read—I tried to read that detective story that John was reading. And John didn't come. And at last I went out."

Her eyes seemed to be turning inward seeing the scene.

"It was moonlight. I went along the path to the swimming pool. There was a light in the pavilion. They were there—John and that woman."

Henrietta made a faint sound. Gerda's face had changed—it had none of its usual slightly vacant amiability. It was remorseless, implacable.

"I trusted John. I'd believed in him—as though he were God. I thought he was the noblest man in the world—I thought he was everything that was fine and noble. And it was all a lie! I was left with nothing—nothing at all. I—I'd worshipped John!"

Henrietta was gazing at her fascinated. For here, before her eyes, was what she had guessed at, and brought to life, carving it out of wood. Here was The Woman—blind devotion thrown back on itself, disillusion—dangerous.

Gerda said, "I couldn't bear it! I had to kill him! I had to—you see that, Henrietta?"

She said it quite conversationally, in an almost friendly tone.

"And I knew I must be careful because the police are very clever. But then I'm not really as stupid as people think! If you're very slow and just stare, people think you don't take things in—and sometimes, underneath, you're laughing at them! I knew I could kill John and nobody would know because I'd read in that detective story about the police being able

It is correct today for a man to wear a homburg hat in place of the high silk topper with his white tie and tails; also with the daytime outfit of striped trousers and dark sack coat.

Today's Horoscope
A birthday anniversary today means that you are impulsive, quick tempered, but not unreasonable. You have confidence in your own ability, are ambitious, determined and systematic. You like to make others happy, and are capable of an undivided love and devotion. The day is good concerning old, past and distant matters; also news. During the next 12 months, beware of deception and quarrels with lover, spouse or relatives and watch expenses. Guard against extravagance and imposition. Born today a child will be inclined to squander money on finer adornment and other good things of life, thereby incurring loss and disputation.

STARS SAY—

For Tuesday, August 19
Under the impact of a sudden and abrupt visitation, of what may be considered "first magnitude" significance, it is admonished that a firm stand on terra firma be maintained, despite the revolutionary and radical force of the event. In the spur of excitement and surprise there is danger of rash moves, turbulent emotions and a spirit of tumult and belligerency. Also, the emotions and inner urges may not be grounded on principles of logic and good sense. The sudden change is of such far-reaching and fundamental importance, its management demands cool and calculated judgment and quick action. Avoid strife.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a sudden precipitation of events which, although coming with whirlwind force, spell a welcome, uprooting, adventurous and romantic course in which fresh pastures, novel ideas and dynamic companionship have major significance. This auspicious rule should not be jeopardized by rash, tumultuous, erratic or emotional stress in behavior or in drawing conclusions. Shun contention and argument and refrain from quixotic notions and subtle "smartness".

A child born on this day may have ingenuity and skill for a dramatic and constructive career, but a tempestuous mode of action, or jumping at conclusions, might be its undoing.

Up to another scorcher of a day and did vow that no more will I ever complain about Winter. All last Spring when the weather was unseasonably cold I kept wishing for just what we are getting now and do not like. Probably wished a little too hard. Soon downtown and out over the paves, calling here and there for the first time in two weeks owing to Editor McCarty being on vacation and me taking over his desk duties. That fellow is smart. Sat around in the shade while I sweated it out in record temperatures. This day he is complaining of the heat. Well, let him complain. He gets neither sympathy nor help out of me.

Chatted with Miller Fissel about this and that, including home insulation, cooling and heating systems. And he told me that he burns less than four tons of coal a Winter in that new home of his. Right now it seems that four tons should last a lifetime, but Winter is coming again—I think. Four tons—why, that barely kindles a fire for me. Miller has absolute proof.

Met Clarence Wolf and with him did drop in at Isaly's for a cup of coffee, being waited on by Manager Paul Hang himself. Runs a nice place. Talked with Ray Davis and learned that he and the lady are leaving this week-end on a trip to Niagara Falls and then back by the way of Toronto. Told him what little I know about the two places. Since his time is limited in Toronto did suggest that he employ an intelligent guide there so that he may see the spots of greatest interest. Much to be seen in that city.

There goes Bob Colville with that Pumpkin Show look on his face. But he refuses to divulge plans until success of the county fair is assured. Everyone will be surprised by appearance of the fairgrounds this year. Almost miraculous the amount of building done there in such a short time. And that auditorium! What a building that is going to be! Looks as big as all out of doors. Yes, you will be proud of it. Our fair board is not only good at planning, but good on execution as well. More work than talk. Someday it will run out of funds and will ask for more. And after seeing what has been done with the money provided, you will provide what else is needed.

Here and there chat about the proposal for a change in local government to the city manager form. Folk asking who is behind the movement and how serious it is. It's serious enough, but a cloud hangs over the validity of the petitions seeking to have the issue put up to the voters at the November election. That question should be cleared soon and then the proposal will be brought fully into the open or shelved until the next primaries. Whether it is now or farther up the road, Circleville is to have a management shakeup. Now that the dollar is buying less food, clothing, housing or whatever you care to mention, folk cast around for bargains and are beginning to wonder whether or not they may be justified in asking more for their tax dollar. Maybe they will run into trouble with that idea. They did once before back in 1932. Asked more for their tax dollars and got more—more government that really gave them a tax backache. Now, we be lately are becoming government cost conscious again. Maybe this time it will be different. Well, we can hope, can't we?

DODGERS WIN TWIN AFFAIR FROM ST. LOUIS

Yankees Start Western Trip; Stop At Detroit For Tiger Series

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 — The New York Yankees, having polished off the Boston Red Sox quite neatly, will now go to work on Detroit, the other leading contender for the American League flag, in the first series of the Yanks' last western trip which starts today.

The Tigers, who are in third place but only one game behind the Red Sox, face an almost hopeless task. If the Yankees win only half of their remaining games, Detroit must play .800 ball all the way down the stretch to beat them.

New York boasts a lead of 12½ games over Boston. No American League club yet has blown such a commanding advantage.

The Yankees will play only 11 games on this abbreviated tour. Five of them will be night contests. Then the New Yorkers will be back in their Bronx orchard where the world series seems destined to start on Oct. 1.

IN THE NATIONAL League, Boston has replaced the New York Giants as a long shot possibility to overhaul the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers, if the St. Louis Cardinals fail to turn the trick, as now seems likely. The Braves now trail the Red Birds by only a game and a half.

Billy Southworth, manager of the Braves, always gets a stretch drive out of his clubs. Early this season he said:

"We may not be going so good now, but we will be playing our best in August and September, and you will see us ahead of some of those clubs which will begin to lose interest when they do not have much chance."

ON PAPER, the Braves do not seem to have very much chance, but so far, Southworth's prediction has come through right on schedule.

And their pennant chances, already twice as good as those of the Tigers and Red Sox in the junior circuit, will improve sharply if the Cardinals can win the final two games of the Brooklyn series.

In the only games scheduled yesterday, the Brooklyn Dodgers won an afternoon and a night contest from St. Louis by scores of 7 to 5 and 12 to 3.

The Giants, although they have lost seven straight and 10 out of 12 during their prolonged slump, are likely to start tearing the cover off the ball at any moment now that they are back home in their own ball yard. They probably will not win the flag themselves, but they surely will make things miserable for some of the other contenders.

'CHAMPION OF CHAMPIONS' TOP SHOOT FEATURE

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 19 — Eight state titleholders were scheduled today to fire away for the "champion of champions" crown in the 48th Grand American trapshoot at Vandalia, O., after breaking 100 straight clay pigeons.

Those who had perfect scores in the event yesterday were defending champion Vic Reinders, Waukesha, Wis.; Mercer Tennille, Shreveport, La.; H. L. Cheek, Clinton, Ind.; Julius Petty, England, Ark.; Grant Hlsen, Waco, Tex.; Roy G. Cole, Hamilton, Ont.; Herb Bush, Canton, Ill.; and Joe Hiestand, Hillsboro, O.

The shoot-off will be held during the regular North American championship event today, with scores in that title race determining the "champion of champions."

Fred David Waldo, Sandusky, O., won the junior championship yesterday when he broke 100-straight targets. The perfect score of the 17-year-old was only the second time in 28 years that the event has been won by an unbroken mark.

Mrs. Lela Hall Frank marked her return to the trapshooting lines after a two-year absence due to illness, by winning the women's champion of champ-

CARDS' FLAG CHANCES HINGE ON PLAY OF THESE

IN THEIR "CROOCIAL" SERIES with the Dodgers in Brooklyn, the Cardinals make their first serious bid for the National League flag with the club's chances depending on the play of several key men. The Cardinal upsurge to a pennant contender followed when these key men began to play the type of ball they were expected to. Stan Musial, the slugging first sacker, has been hitting .400 ball in August and as Musial went the Cards went. Pitching of Howie Pollet, southpaw who won 21 games for the club in 1946, has improved and he's once again bidding for the No. 1 spot on the staff. Whitey Kurowski also has been hitting hard. George Munger has continued to win.

RED BIRDS ONLY HALF GAME OUT OF THIRD PLACE

The battle for third place in the American Association was scheduled to open tonight in Milwaukee.

All other contests in the minor loop appeared today to take a back seat to the struggle between the Columbus Red Birds, who are only a half game out of the third spot, and the current holders of the position, Milwaukee.

Kansas City by beating the Brewers last night, 8 to 3, stretched its lead over Louisville to seven full games and only a completely unexpected tailspin can keep the Blues from displacing Louisville as the Association champs.

St. Paul continued to stave off a possible drop back into the cellar by downing its twin city neighbor, Minneapolis, 5 to 3, in the only other game played yesterday. The victory put the Saints a full game out of last place.

Trailing Columbus by a half game is Indianapolis, standing

NIGHT LEAGUE TOURNEY BACK AT BEGINNING

Esmeralda Beats VFW In First Game Of Revised Softball Program

Night Softball league tournament had started over Tuesday with Esmeralda the winner in an extra-inning game Monday night in Ted Lewis park.

Because of conflicts, misunderstandings and other complications it was decided to throw out results so far and start over. Container Corporation decided to drop out and a new schedule was drawn.

IN MONDAY night's game VFW took a 1-0 lead in the third. Esmeralda tied the score in the fourth, then VFW surged ahead again in the last of the fourth and fifth. A four-run outburst in the top of the sixth looked like victory for Esmeralda but VFW came back with two in the last of the seventh to knot the count at 5-5.

In the top of the eighth the Cannors scored three times to win 8-5. A single by C. Smith, walk to L. Hill and an error on Tom Byrd's long fly ball to left gave the winners their margin of victory.

H. Smith and C. Hill each gave up three hits. The Cannors made one more error than the losers but the last VFW error proved too costly.

Tom Byrd hit a homer and two doubles to lead the batting. Pitcher Smith paced VFW with two hits in two times up.

U. S. LOSING GROUND ALONG COAST LINES

Experts See No Reason For Land Owners To Become Alarmed Yet

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—The United States is losing ground along its coastlines, but real estate owners needn't worry—too much.

At least that's the opinion of H. A. Marmer, assistant chief of coast and geodetic survey's division of tides and currents.

Marmer, white-haired expert on such things, said today that the ocean is climbing on both sides of the country at the rate of a foot and a half a century.

He couldn't estimate how much land the ocean movement is absorbing but did warn that normally moderate storms may in the future have a more devastating effect.

MARMER EXPLAINED that a storm rolling in from the ocean onto a sandy beach will be able to penetrate farther into the continent because of the rise in sea level.

On the other hand places like New York City will not be effected too much since large buildings and other obstructions tend to lessen the force of the storm. Marmer declared:

"A storm that comes maybe once in ten years with noticeable effect may have the same effect as one that comes once every 100 years."

EXPERTS on the subject advanced the following explanations of the ground-losing operation:

1. Huge glaciers in the Arctic area are melting and dumping more water into the ocean.
2. The lost continent of "Atlantis" is struggling free of its watery grave in Davy Jones' Locker and pushing more water on U. S. land.
3. The northern hemisphere is receding further into the earth.

MARMER SAID the division has observed the land loss during the last 20 years. Before that it was loosely estimated that the U. S. was losing land at the rate of a half foot every 100 years.

The official said that the rate may change again in 20 or 30 years, but could offer no solution to the problem which in several million years may extend the Atlantic ocean to the Mississippi river.

SWEDISH 'PEOPLE'S CAR'

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 19—A new popular and inexpensive automobile, known as a "People's Car," has been brought out by the Swedish Aircraft company in Linköping. It has front-wheel drive, seats four, and weighs about 1,550 pounds. The engine is of 25 horsepower, and the maximum speed is expected to be about 100 kilometers an hour (about 60 miles). Mass production of the new car, which will cost at most 5,000 kronor, (about $1,400) will begin in 1949.

GOV. FOLSOM SAYS ATTENTION 'NOT SERIOUS'

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Aug. 19—The governor of Alabama today denied his attentions toward the governor of California's 18-year-old daughter were serious.

Gov. James E. Folsom, 38, who arrived yesterday on a vacation trip, grinned when questioned by newsmen about Gov. Earl Warren's daughter, Virginia. He said:

"Serious? Well, I don't guess you should say that."

Said Virginia:

"What after all, I've only seen the governor four times."

The 6 foot 8 inch governor immediately went to the Warren Summer cottage at Santa Monica after he landed in his National Guard airplane. Gov. Warren was away on a fishing trip.

The couple recently met at a governors' convention in Salt Lake City.

Mr. Warren invited Folsom to go grunion fishing yesterday, but the governor mentioned going dancing with Virginia instead.

Folsom is the widowed father of two children and said he probably would be visiting for two days while his plane was being checked.

GREEN URGES 'WORK HOLIDAY' ELECTION DAY

AFL Leader Predicts Defeat
Of All Congressmen Who
Backed Labor Bill

GREEN BAY, Wis., Aug. 19.—AFL President William Green advocated today a nationwide work holiday for 7 million 500 thousand AFL members on general election day in 1948 as part of a program to defeat congressmen who supported the Taft-Hartley labor act.

Green, who was attending the convention of the Wisconsin state federation of labor in Green Bay, said the union's political program will be planned by the AFL executive council meeting in Chicago, Sept. 8.

He said: "We will oppose the re-election of all those who voted for the Taft-Hartley act."

Green predicted that all congressmen who backed the bill would be defeated. He added that he had never seen the workers "so aroused."

When Skinny played Sitting Bull

Remember when Skinny played Sitting Bull, and his band of "bloodthirsty braves" tried to take the backyard fort? Remember your periscope, made of an old stovepipe and a couple of mirrors? You could watch "Sitting Bull" and his "Sioux warriors". Skinny had big plans, but you didn't miss a trick. Through that periscope, you could see behind the scenes, so to speak.

On a busy railroad like the Norfolk and Western you have to look behind the scenes to see what it takes to move millions of passengers and millions of tons of freight.

You'll see a panorama of vast, diversified operations — signals and traffic controls . . . bridges and bookkeeping . . . cars and chemistry . . . food and physics . . . stations, tunnels, schedules, roadbeds and advertising. You'll see taxes and finance, huge inland and ocean terminals, safety, photography, fuel, map-making, mail-carrying, police work, engineering, car classification, mathematics, great shops, purchasing, powerful locomotives and accurate scales, and hundreds of other activities not revealed in a casual glance . . . but all necessary parts of the far-reaching job it takes to move trains in the best way known.

This is the backstage scene . . . where a coordinated, smoothly working organization of 22,000 busy workers, specialists in their fields, are teamed with the most modern equipment and methods to build the service, which the Norfolk and Western proudly calls Precision Transportation.

POLITICS STILL LEADING TOPIC IN WASHINGTON

Congressmen And Other Top Leaders On Vacation But Tension Remains

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—Politically speaking, the quiet that prevails along the Potomac today is as deceptive as a coquette's sigh.

The halls of congress are silent and the dog-days hush of humid Washington is broken only by the tramp-tramp-tramp of tourists' feet, but the war drums of politics can be heard beyond the far horizon.

The conventions at which the 1948 presidential nominees will be chosen are less than a year away—and to a politician with his eye on the White House a year isn't much.

At GOP and Democratic headquarters in Washington, the experts who know the meaning of every political drumbeat have their ears attuned to Albany and Murray Bay, to Rio and Sacramento, and to all the interim haunts of the men who are "willing" to run.

PRESIDENT Truman, of course, will be the Democratic nominee, which simplifies one problem and narrows the field in his party to vice presidential aspirants.

Over at the Republican pilot house on Connecticut avenue it's a different story. It's going to be a wide open race for the top spot. The present activities of the potential candidates are being studied with avid interest.

The men behind the GOP scenes are awaiting word of the accomplishments of Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich. at the Rio De Janeiro hemisphere security conference.

THEY KNOW that a smashing speech or statement by Vandenberg could dramatize him as a dominating figure whose shadow might fall clear across next Summer's convention.

And of course the political wisecracks are aware that Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, vacationing at Murray Bay, Quebec, is finding time between masochistic shots to polish his autumnal oratory.

Those politicians are listening eagerly for advance word of the oratorical struggle between Taft and New York's Gov. Dewey, which is about as certain to come as Christmas is.

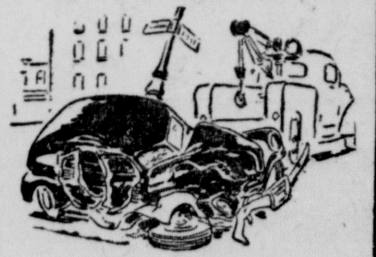

ON THE Democratic side of the fence, the professional politicians are up their necks in analysis of the chances of those who would "consent" to run on the ticket with Mr. Truman.

They speak of good, gray Sen. Barkley (D) Ky., majority leader in the senate throughout the new deal era; of Florida's fluent Pepper, who recently climbed aboard the Truman bandwagon, cold-shouldering Henry Wallace and his third party movement, if any; and of those geographically acceptable New Yorkers, secretary of national defense Jim Forrestal and secretary of commerce Averill Harriman.

And that's why, even in the August heat, with congress vacationing and the town ostensibly as quiet as Punkin Corners on a Sunday afternoon, the political tension in Washington remains, as usual, terrific.

Elmwood, Cambridge, Mass., was the ancestral home of James Russell Lowell. It stands on Elmwood avenue. His father was born here, and the poet lived here all his life.

agement of the subcommittee chairman Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) who even erroneously referred to the proceedings as a "trial", the Hughes hearings made the senate probing group extremely unpopular with the American public.

As a result, today no one could even dream of becoming President of his participation in that particularly ridiculous inquisition. Thus, long before Senator Ferguson—who may well have been guilty only of bad-tempered blundering—suggested that the committee be disbanded, the word already was out that its active days were numbered.

Finally, there is a fact that neither senate president Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich) nor Senator Robert Taft (R-Ohio)—both possible presidential choices now are enthusiastic about continuation of the committee which they fought so hard to recreate last January. Both had a hand in cutting the Hughes comedy short and both are aware that Brewster has packed the committee with young Dewey men!

All in all, considering the slight margin by which it was reborn with full Republican support last time, it seems unlikely that the committee will get a second renewal next January.

In any case, the pathway which Truman trod has become a bit too rocky for any candidate to race down in time to make the White House in 1948. The boys will have to try another route!

HERCULES HAD A CINCH!

Mythical Hero's Labors Were Trifling By Comparison With Producer Problems In Creating Historical Film Settings

MOVIE MANSION—This is no cardboard set—the walls and the chandelier are as real as the actors.

AMBER COMES TO TOWN—A whole section of Restoration London was recreated for this scene.

By VICTOR GUNSON

Central Press Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD—There are a few moviemakers who sometimes think Hercules had a cinch. They are Hollywood's art directors—men like Lyle Wheeler and Cedric Gibbons, both of whom have been honored by the Motion Picture academy with "Oscars."

They are responsible for the sets on which the stars parade their emotional wares.

A set may be as small as a telephone booth, such as the one in which Robert Taylor and Audrey Hepburn worked only the other day for a scene in "The High Wall." Or it may cover 18 acres, like the miniature London built for the great fire sequence in "Forever Amber."

A set may cost as little as $25—or as much as $250,000.

DURING the war government restrictions and scarcity of materials held Hollywood down. Now, with materials on the increase, cinema-land is making up for lost time.

The art director's problem in contemplating an epic picture like "The Foxes of Harrow," which recreates New Orleans in the early days of the 19th century, goes far beyond the actual planning and building.

Wheeler went into the problem so thoroughly that he sent Frances Richardson, head of the studio research department, to New Orleans for an exhaustive study of the period. As an academy winner for a southern theme ("Wheeler was art director on "Gone With the Wind"), "The Foxes of Harrow" should have been a cinch.

However, Wheeler was faced with one poser. The picture called for two Southern mansions. Up to the time Stephen Fox builds his home, the D'Arseneau mansion in New Orleans was the most elegant abode in a city famed for luxury and beauty.

However, as in the best selling novel, the lines of the script stress the fact that gambler Fox, played by Rex Harrison, brags repeatedly that his home will outdo even the D'Arseneau place.

THERE are no filmies with plaster board walls and lathe backs in this set of Harrow. For the first time on a sound stage, Wheeler built actual walls, plastered and painted or tinted. There is a vast spiral staircase which could stand for all time—but won't. Genuine hardwood floors of the period were laid board by board.

Wall panelings were used which represented a fortune when first bought by the studio, but which have paid their original cost over and over during the years.

Genuine Gobelin tapestry chairs, which cost $10,000 each years ago when the prop department was founded, are used in the vast rooms.

Straight from the textile mills came thousands of yards of glistening satins used for draping the tall French windows. Some of the portiers required 70 yards of material.

When the time came for translating "Forever Amber" to the screen, Wheeler called in Dr. Godfrey Davis, eminent authority on the period, to act as technical director.

Dr. Davis and a staff of eight worked like beavers for months. They went into the writings of Samuel Pepys for details of the days of the restoration. Sir Peter Lely, court painter, was the authority for the ladies and gentlemen of King Charles' court and the hearty art of Hogarth provided illustrations of the common people.

The studio set up its own glass factory to provide the necessary 5,000 square feet of 17th Century window glass—it was not transparent. Whitehall Palace was reproduced, as were Newgate prison, Theatre Royal, the London docks, Marygreen village, the Queen's presence chamber, the Earle of Radclyffe's estate and town house, St. James Park and the 18-acre miniature of the city of London for the fire.

WHEELER spent six months studying the problem of building Whitehall palace, and then five weeks for the drawings. Actual building by studio workmen required 13 weeks.

"Forever Amber" called for a total of 73 sets and Wheeler turned out 1,000 rough sketches in advance before he was satisfied. The fire sequence was one of the most spectacular in screen history.

However, even at its quarter of a million dollar cost, the studio's London fire was a piker compared to the real event. The real fire leveled 13,200 houses in 400 streets, and courts, wiped out 87 parish churches and scores of business and government buildings.

The famous London fire cleaned off 273 acres and cost 30 million dollars. It did the work, incidentally, in four days. Hollywood's miniature reproduction took two weeks.

FORECASTERS SEE LITTLE HEAT RELIEF

Terrific Explosions Rock Spanish Port City

200 REPORTED DEAD, HUNDREDS HURT IN CADIZ

Large Areas Of Town Said Levelled; Secret Torpedo Outburst Possibility

SEVILLA, Spain, Aug. 19 — A series of terrific explosions, causing casualties that some estimates placed at 200 dead and 5,000 injured, levelled large areas of the Spanish port city of Cadiz today.

With communications badly disrupted, early reports of damage done by explosion of naval torpedoes, mines, chemicals and depth charges that hurled billows of flame and smoke into the skies were fragmentary.

The first blast occurred in a dockside warehouse where chemicals were stored. It set off a chain reaction of other explosions and fires similar to the recent Texas City, Tex. disaster.

MAYOR SANCHEZ Cossio of Cadiz managed to get a telephone call out of the stricken city after many hours of delay.

He said: "The disaster struck most heavily at the San Sebastian district, where 25,000 persons live, and at San Jose, where whole families were buried in their homes."

"Damage in these areas and in the whole town is enormous. Large brigades of workmen are clearing the ruins and searching for victims."

Cossio placed the start of the disaster at a warehouse comprising part of a torpedo plant.

POSSIBILITY that the Cadiz holocaust might have been produced by explosion of a former secret Nazi torpedo deposit was suggested by one opposition spokesman in Madrid.

This source stated the anti-Franco underground is positive that during the war the Nazis had secret supply bases located in caves lining the rocky Mediterranean coast.

An official of the ministry of marine contradicted this theory, however, saying the blasts occurred.

PRISONER OVERPOWERS DEPUTY AND ESCAPES

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19—Central Ohio was the scene of a search today for John W. Shank, 27-year-old prisoner of the Franklin county jail who made a daring escape late yesterday.

Shank overpowered Sheriff's Deputy Henry C. Gland, Jr., 27, when taken to a dentist's office for treatment. He escaped with the deputy's .38 caliber revolver.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Walter Kiernan

Good times are on the wane—some 1942 cars are down to the price of 1947 models.

And old Bill Green says our prosperity is temporary, a warning that may frighten millions into staying on the job.

But when we have plenty of leisure it will be nice to look back on the days when so many took plenty of leisure.

Of more moment is the campaign against long skirts. No bow-legged girls are identified with the opposition.

The feeling seems to be that the long skirt is a waste of good material, namely nylon.

Like roses the opponents in the long-skirt, short-skirt foray can be identified by their stems.

In a situation like this any man is neutral against the long skirt.

WITH EIGHT GOATS pulling and four bringing up the rear of his nondescript vehicle, Charles McCartney, 45, takes off from Arlington Heights, Ill., for Green Bay, Wis., after a short rest on what he calls his 15th "mission up north" from his native Mt. Eagle, Ga.

Circleville Has First Polio Case In Years; William Shirey, 2, Ill

Circleville had its first polio case in several years Tuesday.

William Geary Shirey, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shirey, 130 West Water street, was receiving treatment in Children's hospital, Columbus, for the disease.

The youngster was taken to the hospital Monday evening after Dr. J. M. Hedges diagnosed his illness as infantile paralysis. Further diagnosis at the hospital confirmed Dr. Hedges' report.

Dr. Hedges said the youngster seemed to be in "good" condition. Paralysis is limited to his right leg, he said.

The tot has a sister, 8, and a brother, 4 months old.

BIS ESCAPEES BIND, GAG, ROB WOMAN OF $16

LANCASTER, O., Aug. 19—A trio of escapees from the boys industrial school at Lancaster, who bound, gagged and robbed a 55-year-old woman, were lodged in the Fairfield county jail today while authorities continued a search for a fourth escapee.

Still at large was Robert Burnside, 16, Dayton, who walked away from the BIS at noon yesterday with three other youths. The three recaptured were Elmer Hobson, 18, Cleveland; Mac Gordon, 16, Akron; and Thomas Balzer, 18, Columbus.

Authorities said that Hobson, Gordon and Balzer invaded the home of Miss Grace Broderick, who lives alone two miles northeast of Lancaster and three miles from the institution, early last night.

They bound the woman to a chair, gagged her and spent two hours searching the house futilely for men's clothing to replace their BIS uniforms. When they took $16 from her purse and left, they gave her instructions for freeing herself.

Miss Broderick loosed herself and went to a neighbor's for help. The trio was found a short time later by a posse of 25 BIS officers as they hid near Revenge.

HEAT WALKOUTS IDLE 9,600 AT CHRYSLER PLANT

DETROIT, Aug. 19—More than 9,600 Chrysler corporation workers in Detroit were idled today by heat walkouts and parts shortages.

The heat work stoppages started at 9 a. m. this morning with 650 workers at the Dodge main plant and the Jefferson plant. By 11 a. m., 2,300 walked off their jobs and 7,360 others sent home because of the shortage of bodies.

A company spokesman said many workers asked permission to go home as the mercury rose over 92 degrees.

MAN WHO SHOT AT BRICKER IS FOUND INSANE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—William L. Kaiser, the one-time Capitol policeman who attempted to assassinate Sen. John W. Bricker (R) O., last July 12, was committed today to St. Elizabeth hospital in Washington as mentally unsound.

District Court Judge Richmond Keach ordered Kaiser's immediate commitment after a jury returned a verdict that he was of unsound mind. The jury deliberated only 15 minutes after listening to the testimony of prominent psychiatrists that the 49-year-old former Columbus, O., resident was insane and suffering from an organic brain disease.

Kaiser fired two shots at Bricker in the senate subway and told authorities, when he was captured, that he tried to kill Bricker because of losses he suffered in the closing of a Columbus savings and loan company while Bricker was attorney general of Ohio.

BERNARD BARUCH MARKS ANNIVERSARY QUIETLY

NEW YORK, Aug. 19—Bernard M. Baruch, in excellent health, quietly observed his 77th birthday anniversary today. He spent the day at his Summer home in Port Washington, Long Island.

An extremely modest man, Baruch declined to talk for publication. He said there was to be no "birthday interview", no visit from the press. It was just another day in his life.

Baruch, who advised presidents during two wars, looked the picture of health.

GROMYKO AGAIN ACCUSES U. S.

Russian Delegate To UN Says America Trying To Bypass Agency

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 19—Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko openly accused the United States in the security council today of attempting to "force" its "good offices" on the Indonesian republic to compel the latter to by-pass the United Nations.

The Russian representative, officially sponsoring the Indonesian Republic regime by demanding that the latter's request for a U. N. commission to supervise the truce and an arbitration body be set up without delay, charged the United States with having economic interests in Indonesia.

He declared that the United States attempt to impose its will on Indonesia outside of the UN is not only an effort to by-pass the organization but can be "dangerous."

GROMYKO ALSO charged

The Netherlands government with ignoring the United Nations and of taking advantage of every delay in the security council to pursue the hostilities in violation of the truce.

He called for expeditious decisions on the Indonesian request and claimed that the Dutch attitude in refusing a U. N. commission is "a challenge" to the security council.

Gromyko assailed the repeated offers of "good offices" to the Indonesians by the United States as "strange" and

CATTLE ON FEED IN OHIO FEWER THAN LAST YEAR

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19—The number of cattle on feed for market in 11 corn belt states on Aug. 1 was 40 per cent larger than a year previous.

However, the Ohio cooperative crop reporting service said the increase did not extend to Ohio and Indiana. In Ohio the number was down 10 per cent while in Indiana the number was the same as last year.

The service also emphasized that the 1946 figure was a record low and that the number of cattle on feed on Aug. 1 in the corn belt area, still was 25 per cent smaller than two years ago.

RUBBER FIRMS CHARGED WITH PRICE FIXING

Government Accuses Eight Leading Manufacturers In New Attack

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—The federal government today carried out a three-pronged attack against high prices and alleged monopolies as it pushed an investigation into the cost of living.

Striking for the second time in 24 hours against high prices, the government charged eight leading tire manufacturing concerns with entering into price-fixing agreements.

The charges were filed in a New York federal court by the justice department which at the same time asked a Los Angeles federal court to break up alleged monopoly in color films.

BOTH CASES followed action of the federal trade commission in charging the bulk of the nation's steel industry with price fixing and came just one week after a federal inquiry was ordered into the prices of food, clothing and housing.

Attorney General Clark said that the tire and film cases were part of the justice department's fight on monopolies, which President Truman repeatedly has warned are a threat to national welfare.

Eight rubber companies, one trade association and 10 rubber officials were accused of agreeing on prices, discounts, allowances, bonuses, allocation of sales, limitations on production "and other related practices for the purpose of eliminating price competition."

AN ANTI-TRUST division spokesman said the government charges that the alleged price-fixing conspiracy began in 1935-12 years ago—and that a New

U. S. TRYING TO BLOCK ECONOMIC DISCUSSIONS NOW

PETROPOLIS, Brazil, Aug. 19—The United States delegation reacted today to a Cuban challenge with a vigorous campaign to eliminate economic issues from the inter-American defense conference. The Americans had the support of at least three Latin-American delegations in attempts to confine the deliberations to matters bearing directly on a hemispheric defense pact.

Guillermo Belt, Cuban ambassador to Washington, opposing the United States stand, introduced the question of economic plenary session and demanded safeguards against "threats and aggressions of an economic character."

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, chairman of the senate foreign affairs committee, was assigned the task of conferring with Belt.

At the same time, Secretary of State Marshall will attempt to influence Dr. Juan A. Bramuglia, Argentine foreign minister, and several other Latin-American spokesmen.

TRUCK DRIVER KILLED WHEN OIL TANK EXPLODES

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 19—Explosion of a gasoline tank truck took the life of its driver and imperilled three storage tanks containing 45,000 gallons of gasoline, kerosene and fuel oil in Springfield early today.

Chet Anderson, Urbana, was pumping gasoline from his truck into one of the storage tanks on the city's east side just before midnight when the truck exploded with a roar.

Thuransky In New York Tells Stories of Brutal Treatment In Hungary

NEW YORK, Aug. 19—Steve Thuransky, 54, former Ohioan who escaped from a jail in Budapest, arrived in New York today with a vivid story of brutal treatment in Hungary.

Thuransky, a naturalized citizen who went to his native Hungary to sell farm machinery, was arrested in Balassagyarmat Aug. 1 when he made critical remarks about the government while talking with friends on the street. He explained:

"I was defending America against the dirty remarks by Communist and Social Democratic leaders."

THURANSKY, his wife, Teresa, 45, and his daughters, Margaret, 25, and Mary, 21, returned on the Marine Jumper which docked with 752 passengers.

Arrested late at night after his remarks were reported to the Hungarian gendarmes, Thuransky was taken to a political jail in Budapest. There, he said, he was beaten into unconsciousness with sandbags.

Meanwhile his wife and daughters followed after him and reported his arrest to the American legation. Two days later the Hungarians tried to transfer him to another jail. He charged:

"They tried to sneak me out and take me to the so-called horror chamber."

WHEN THE attempted transfer was being made, Thuransky's wife and Harrison Lewis, commercial attaché of the American legation, were waiting outside in an automobile.

Thuransky saw them and struck out at his guards with his handcuffed fists. Nearby were two Russians, waiting in a jeep. In the melee the guards be-

TRUMAN ORDERS INTENSIVE CHECK ON DP PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—President Truman today ordered an intensive, on-the-spot survey of the European displaced persons problem and directed a three-way shift in federal posts to speed action on the matter.

The chief executive transferred Ugo Carusi from his post as immigration and naturalization commissioner to that of special assistant to assistant Secretary of State Charles E. Saltzman.

Carusi was directed by the President to survey the entire displaced persons situation, including resettlement of DP's and administration of the presidential directive of Sept. 2, 1945, concerning the handling of war victims.

came confused and Mrs. Thuransky shoved her husband into the car.

The Thuranskys refused to say where they were given sanctuary while in hiding for the next three days before leaving Budapest for Frankfurt in the American zone in Germany.

THURANSKY said he left $25,000 in personal property behind, including $7,500 in American money in his desk.

He said that 90 per cent of the Hungarian people were pro-American and anti-Communist and wanted America "to liberate them from their liberators."

Thuransky went to Hungary as a representative of the International Harvester company, but he said he was unable to get a permit from the Hungarian government to sell farm machinery.

Following Thuransky's arrest, the state department charged the Hungarian government with violating the armistice agreement with the United States and demanded his release, but no satisfaction was obtained before the Ohioan's escape.

BRITISH REVEAL COST FIGURES OF U. S. LOAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—British officials were disclosed today to have informed the United States for the first time of the tremendous costs to Britain of its loan clause requiring settlement of sterling debts with dollars.

A high British official said that Sir Wilfred Eady, head of the British loan delegation to Washington, made the disclosure to Secretary of Treasury John Snyder. Snyder is heading the discussions in his capacity of chairman of the President's national advisory council.

The figure is highly secret and has never been disclosed even to the British public. The loan clause obliging Britain to settle her sterling debts with dollars became effective July 15.

Meanwhile, second day discussions on the British dollar crisis began on a secondary, or committee level.

Cold Air May Not Reach Ohio To Lower Temperatures; Showers Hinted

Forecasters today could see no break in the resurging Ohio heat wave for at least 48 hours, with any substantial relief at the end of that period depending on a few "ifs."

According to Weatherman C. G. Andrus, a cooler air mass was moving out of Canada and was slated to drop temperatures in some midwestern areas by tomorrow.

"If the cooler air mass picks up speed and gets over Ohio by Thursday, it may benefit this area," Andrus said. "However, there is a chance it will be delayed and therefore modified to a point where there will be little or no relief from high temperatures."

Andrus added that it might be better to pin hopes on relief from scattered thundershowers, beginning late today and increasing in scope and intensity tomorrow.

Circleville was one of the hottest cities in the state Monday. Weather Observer Charles Carter said the official government thermometer registered a high of 94. Low mark was 70.

Unofficial higher readings were reported and many perspiring residents refused to believe what they saw on the thermometers. The intense humidity made the weather much worse than the mercury recorded.

Meanwhile, with hardly a cloud to screen the blazing sun, the mercury was climbing steadily upward again after setting a new record of 96 degrees at Cleveland and hitting into the 90's elsewhere yesterday afternoon.

OBSERVERS SEE U. S. TRYING TO RUSH RUSSIANS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—Observers in Washington today foresee the United States as playing a diplomatic game designed to force Moscow to ratify the peace treaties with the satellite states of Europe.

This is believed to be the real issue in a series of lesser moves in Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria.

These three powers are strongly under the Russian heel. The United States and Britain have ratified peace treaties with them. They will come into force only when Russia ratifies the pacts.

However, there is a legal quirk to the situation of which the United States is said to want to take full advantage. This is the provision that all occupying troops are to be withdrawn within a given time after the treaties come into force.

Thus ratification of the treaties by Russia would force her to remove her troops from the occupied states, and weaken her control over them.

NEW YORK MAN VACATIONS BY 'TAKING WALK'

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19—While most of the populace is trying to make a fine art of inactivity during the heat wave, a 56-year-old man told in Columbus today of spending his vacation by keeping on the move—at the rate of 50 miles a day on foot.

Jess F. Hyde arrived late yesterday from his home in Binghamton, N. Y., to visit a nephew, Jack Libertore, Columbus. He started 10 days ago and travelled all but 15 of the 500 miles under his own power. Hyde explained his way of spending a vacation by declaring, almost unnecessarily, that he likes to walk.

afternoon, was the seasonal outbreak of hay fever, which afflicts thousands of Ohioans every year.
The hay fever pollen count was 193 at Columbus yesterday and 68 at Cleveland.
The humidity also was on the upgrade, making the prospects of showers more definite. There were 8.28 grains of moisture per cubic foot of air at Cleveland this morning, compared with 8.08 yesterday. The discomfort stage begins with a count of 7.50.
Andrus pointed out that this month was beginning to shape up as the hottest August on record. The temperature mean at Cleveland since the first of the month is plus-77 degrees, compared with a normal of 70 degrees. The warmest August was in 1938 with a mean of 75 degrees.

HIGH AND LOW temperatures at various points for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a. m. today were:
Akron 90-72; Chesapeake 94-74; Cincinnati 95-71; Cleveland 96-72; Columbus 92-73; Dayton 92-74; East Liverpool 89-69; Findlay 94-73; Hayesville 88-72; Parkersburg, W. Va., 90-75; Perry 91-74; Toledo 94-74; Wilmington 94-71; Youngstown 89-69, and Zanesville 90-67.

Va., will become supreme governor of the world order, succeeding Leo W. Ryan, Bedford, Pa. Walter F. Gibson, Oakland, Calif., will be elevated from supreme prelate to succeed Yoke.

$400 FINE PAID HERE BY PRIEST FROM COSHOCTON

Paul Theado, a Catholic priest from Coshocton, paid a fine of $400 and costs, a total of $410.23, when arraigned before Justice H. O. Eweland Tuesday on a charge of driving an automobile when under the influence of alcohol. A charge of indecent exposure against Theado was dropped because of a lack of evidence.
Only one witness was called in the case, Mrs. Florence Iles, of Saltcreek township. She testified that she first noticed the man she identified as Theado when his car ran off the road and into the ditch in front of her home. She said he got the car out of the ditch and drove to the next-door home of the Fraumfelters where he left the car and started to climb a barbed wire dividing fence. His trousers were caught on the barbs and he ordered Mrs. Iles to come and free him. "He was acting like a wild man," she said, "so I gathered up my children and ran down the road to the Fetherolf home from where the sheriff was called."
Mrs. Iles said that when Theado got out of the car only one button was fastened on his shirt and one on his trousers. She testified that he made no deliberate attempt at exposure. She voiced belief that he was intoxicated.
Theado was represented in court by Bert Addison, Columbus. No defense witnesses were called and Theado's only utterance was a not guilty plea at the start of the procedure.
Prosecutor Robbins called on Franklin Iles, age 12, for testimony, but when the boy became frightened by court procedure and dignity he was dismissed without testifying to more than his name and age.

"Germany is not a problem now—Russia is our problem today."
At the same time senate appropriations chairman Bridges (R), N. H., announced a far-reaching series of European trips by 15 committee members.
One member said the ultimate fate of the Marshall plan may hinge on the committee's findings, since congress holds the purse strings.
Announcing the trips, Bridges said:
"The purpose of the trip is to view the results of expenditures made to date and to determine the need of the continued large outlay of U. S. taxpayers' funds for the stabilization of Europe."

York grand jury began a study of the case in March, 1946.
He added that the present decline in tire prices occurred about 14 months after the issuing of subpoenas and at a time when the investigation was making progress.
The companies listed were:
Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio; B. F. Goodrich Company, Akron; General Tire and Rubber Company, Akron; Dayton Rubber Company, Dayton, Ohio; Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Akron; U. S. Rubber Company, New York; Seiberling Rubber Company, Akron; Lee Rubber and Tire Corp., Conshohocken, Pa.; Rubber Manufacturers association of New York, Inc.

RUBBER, FILM and steel company officials denied the government charges and declared they would fight them in the courts.

William O'Neill, president of the General Tire and Rubber Company, replied that the suit "just doesn't make sense." He said tires were selling 2.4 percent below postwar levels and declared that "we shall fight through the courts every charge of unfair dealing."
E. J. Thomas, president of Goodyear, issued a similar statement in which he declared that "it seems utterly preposterous."
J. L. Cochran, vice-president of Seiberling declined immediate comment, but said "we strongly believe there is no justification for the charges."
Herbert E. Smith, president of U. S. Rubber, termed the charges "incredible."

UNION OFFICIALS MUST SAY THEY ARE NOT REDS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—The national labor relations board ruled today that failure of a single officer of the AFL or CIO to file an affidavit disavowing Communism will bar the organizations' thousands of local unions from using Wagner act machinery.
NLRB General Counsel Robert Denham said the Taft-Hartley law, which goes into effect Friday, requires such labor bigwigs as CIO president Philip Murray, AFL president William Green and mine chief John L. Lewis to sign affidavits certifying themselves to be non-Communists.
Denham estimated that if all the unions in the country, national and local, designed to practice before the NLRB, the board would have to obtain non-Communist affidavits from 500,000 union officers.
He described the situation as "the most difficult mechanical problem we have to handle."
The new labor statute provides that union officers must file such affidavits before the NLRB can process a petition for a collective bargaining election, issue an unfair labor practice complaint, or entertain a petition for a union shop referendum.

curred among Spanish stores at the naval base.
Except for the one unconfirmed estimate of 200 dead and 5,000 injured there was little except guesswork. Officials said no real estimate was possible at this time, all sources merely stating the toll would be "terrific."
RAILWAY, telegraph and telephone systems were virtually paralyzed. Newsmen and photographers were barred from the entire area by the Spanish military.
Survivors were quoted as saying that whole buildings were lifted into the air by the series of terrific underground blasts. Rescue work was hampered by the fact that Cadiz was plunged into darkness by the blasts last night but enormity of the damage became apparent with break of day.

MADRID, Aug. 19—The Spanish cabinet held an emergency session on the Cadiz explosions and fires and announced today the government was taking "most urgent" measures to deal with the disaster.
Admiral Moreno, minister of the navy, was sped to Cadiz to take over control of the port city.

"hard to understand" in that such steps were taken at a moment when the security council was about to act on a truce.
Gromyko said that the American offer was resumed again at the moment when the Indonesian government requested an arbitration commission from the security council.

IN BRANDING the United States move as a dangerous step to by-pass the United Nations, Gromyko stated:

"The people of the United Nations expect and wait for the moment when the security council will take effective action to restore peace and order in Indonesia."

"The council must take mediation and arbitration into its own hands. Nothing else will correspond with the desires of the people of Indonesia and of the world."

GIRLS, YOUTH FEARED VICTIMS OF DROWNING

Rescue Crews Still Hunt
Bodies In Ohio River
Near Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Aug. 19 — Two teen-age girls and a 20-year-old boy were presumed drowned today in the Ohio river at Cincinnati.

They were identified as Martha Colster, 17; Helen Bodley, 16, and Charles Singler, all of Cincinnati.

The Bodley girl's brother, Walter, 14, narrowly escaped drowning when he answered his sister's cry for help as she floundered in the river last evening.

Police and fire rescue squads worked under floodlights all during the night in an attempt to recover the bodies. They were continuing their grappling operations today.

THE BODLEY boy said the two girls and the youth went too far from shore and suddenly disappeared, apparently in a sink-hole. He said his sister rose to the surface and screamed for help.

Bodley declared he went to his sister's rescue and grabbed her, but that he had to relinquish his hold when his left arm could not stand the strain. The arm had been broken and had just been taken out of a cast.

The boy finally went home and told his family, but he said he was unable to explain what had happened to Singler and the Colster girl.

'BEST DRIVER' DOES NOT EVEN OWN AUTOMOBILE

MANSFIELD, O., Aug. 19—The "Best driver" in Mansfield is a bearded, 63-year-old gardener who doesn't even own an automobile.

He is Hugh K. Fokner, who topped some 400 other drivers in driving tests conducted as part of a safety campaign. His alertness, skill and coordination on the testing device were rated superior to those of 25-year-old drivers.

Fokner said he has been driving "at intervals" for 35 years. He attributed his nerves to good living habits, stating that "I don't drink or smoke and I eat good food and sleep regular hours."

Gen. Zebulon Montgomery Pike, for whom Pike's peak, in Colorado was named, first called the peak "North mountain."

WHAT IS AN FHA PROPERTY ANALYSIS?

For those who wish to buy a home, an FHA appraisal of the property is one of the best protective measures against possibly inflated realty prices in today's market.

FHA takes an unbiased view of the market. FHA does not recognize purely speculative prices—prices which may be due solely to a current shortage of houses.

Before you buy, consult us about the FHA-Insured Mortgage Plan. Let us show you how FHA's analysis of the site and neighborhood, as well as FHA's inspections of the property for compliance with minimum property standards, operates to the benefit of prospective buyers. FHA terms may be for as long as 20 years on older properties and 25 years on newly built homes, and the mortgage may cover from 80% to 90% of valuation. Convenient monthly payments include a payment on principal, interest, fire and hazard insurance, taxes and other fixed charges.

DODGERS WIN TWIN AFFAIR FROM ST. LOUIS

Yankees Start Western Trip; Stop At Detroit For Tiger Series

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 — The New York Yankees, having polished off the Boston Red Sox quite neatly, will now go to work on Detroit, the other leading contender for the American League flag, in the first series of the Yanks' last western trip which starts today.

The Tigers, who are in third place but only one game behind the Red Sox, face an almost hopeless task. If the Yankees win only half of their remaining games, Detroit must play .800 ball all the way down the stretch to beat them.

New York boasts a lead of 12½ games over Boston. No American League club yet has blown such a commanding advantage.

The Yankees will play only 11 games on this abbreviated tour. Five of them will be night contests. Then the New Yorkers will be back in their Bronx orchard where the world series seems destined to start on Oct. 1.

IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE, Boston has replaced the New York Giants as a long shot possibility to overhaul the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers, if the St. Louis Cardinals fail to turn the trick, as now seems likely. The Braves now trail the Red Birds by only a game and a half.

Billy Southworth, manager of the Braves, always gets a stretch drive out of his clubs. Early this season he said:

"We may not be going so good now, but we will be playing our best in August and September, and you will see us ahead of some of those clubs which will begin to lose interest when they do not have much chance."

ON PAPER, the Braves do not seem to have very much chance, but so far, Southworth's prediction has come through right on schedule.

And their pennant chances, already twice as good as those of the Tigers and Red Sox in the junior circuit, will improve sharply if the Cardinals can win the final two games of the Brooklyn series.

In the only games scheduled yesterday, the Brooklyn Dodgers won an afternoon and a night contest from St. Louis by scores of 7 to 5 and 12 to 3.

The Giants, although they have lost seven straight and 10 out of 12 during their prolonged slump, are likely to start tearing the cover off the ball at any moment now that they are back home in their own ball yard. They probably will not win the flag themselves, but they surely will make things miserable for some of the other contenders.

'CHAMPION OF CHAMPIONS' TOP SHOOT FEATURE

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 19—Eight state titleholders were scheduled today to fire away for the "champion of champions" crown in the 48th Grand American trapshoot at Vandalia, O., after breaking 100 straight clay pigeons.

Those who had perfect scores in the event yesterday were defending champion Vic Reinders, Waukesha, Wis.; Mercer Tennille, Shreveport, La.; H. L. Cheek, Clinton, Ind.; Julius Petty, England, Ark.; Grant Isenl, Waco, Tex.; Roy G. Cole, Hamilton, Ont.; Herb Bush, Canton, Ill., and Joe Hiestand, Hillsboro, O.

The shoot-off will be held during the regular North American championship event today, with scores in that title race determining the "champion of champions."

Fred David Waldo, Sandusky, O., won the junior championship yesterday when he broke 100-straight targets. The perfect score of the 17-year-old was only the second time in 28 years that the event has been won by an unbroken mark.

Mrs. Lela Hall Frank marked her return to the trapshooting lines after a two-year absence due to illness, by winning the women's champion of champ-

CARDS' FLAG CHANCES HINGE ON PLAY OF THESE

IN THEIR "CROOCIAL" SERIES with the Dodgers in Brooklyn, the Cardinals make their first serious bid for the National League flag with the club's chances depending on the play of several key men. The Cardinals upsurge to a pennant contender followed when these key men began to play the type of ball they were expected to. Stan Musial, the slugging first sacker, has been hitting .400 ball in August and as Musial went the Cards went. Pitching of Howie Pollet, southpaw who won 21 games for the club in 1946, has improved and he's once again bidding for the No. 1 spot on the staff. Whitey Kurovski also has been hitting hard. George Munger has continued to win.

RED BIRDS ONLY HALF GAME OUT OF THIRD PLACE

The battle for third place in the American Association was scheduled to open tonight in Milwaukee.

All other contests in the minor loop appeared today to take a back seat to the struggle between the Columbus Red Birds, who are only a half game out of the third spot, and the current holders of the position, Milwaukee.

Kansas City by beating the Brewers last night, 8 to 3, stretched its lead over Louisville to seven full games and only a completely unexpected tailspin can keep the Blues from displacing Louisville as the Association champions.

St. Paul continued to stave off a possible drop back into the cellar by downing its twin city neighbor, Minneapolis, 5 to 3, in the only other game played yesterday. The victory put the Saints a full game out of last place.

Trailing Columbus by a half game is Indianapolis, standing

NIGHT LEAGUE TOURNEY BACK AT BEGINNING

Esmeralda Bests VFW In First Game Of Revised Softball Program

Night Softball league tournament had started over Tuesday with Esmeralda the winner in an extra-inning game Monday night in Ted Lewis park.

Because of conflicts, misunderstandings and other complications it was decided to throw out results so far and start over. Container Corporation decided to drop out and a new schedule was drawn.

IN MONDAY night's game VFW took a 1-0 lead in the third. Esmeralda tied the score in the fourth, then VFW surged ahead again in the last of the fourth and fifth. A four-run outburst in the top of the sixth looked like victory for Esmeralda but VFW came back with two in the last of the seventh to knot the count at 5-all.

In the top of the eighth the Canners scored three times to win 8-5. A single by C. Smith, walk to L. Hill and an error on Tom Byrd's long fly ball to left gave the winners their margin of victory.

H. Smith and C. Hill each gave up three hits. The Canners made one more error than the losers but the last VFW error proved too costly.

Tom Byrd hit a homer and two doubles to lead the batting. Pitcher Smith paced VFW with two hits in two times up.

U. S. LOSING GROUND ALONG COAST LINES

Experts See No Reason For Land Owners To Become Alarmed Yet

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The United States is losing ground along its coastlines, but real estate owners needn't worry—too much.

At least that's the opinion of H. A. Marmer, assistant chief of coast and geodetic survey's division of tides and currents.

Marmer, white-haired expert on such things, said today that the ocean is climbing on both sides of the country at the rate of a foot and a half a century.

He couldn't estimate how much land the ocean movement is absorbing but did warn that normally moderate storms may in the future have a more devastating effect.

MARMER EXPLAINED that a storm rolling in from the ocean onto a sandy beach will be able to penetrate farther into the continent because of the rise in sea level.

On the other hand places like New York City will not be effected too much since large buildings and other obstructions tend to lessen the force of the storm. Marmer declared:

"A storm that comes maybe once in ten years with noticeable effect may have the same effect as one that comes once every 100 years."

EXPERTS on the subject advanced the following explanations of the ground-losing operation:

1. Huge glaciers in the Arctic area are melting and dumping more water into the ocean.
2. The lost continent of "Atlantis" is struggling free of its watery grave in Davy Jones' Locker and pushing more water on U. S. land.
3. The northern hemisphere is receding further into the earth.

MARMER SAID the division has observed the land loss during the last 20 years. Before that it was loosely estimated that the U. S. was losing land at the rate of a half foot every 100 years.

The official said that the rate may change again in 20 or 30 years, but could offer no solution to the problem which in several million years may extend the Atlantic ocean to the Mississippi river.

SWEDISH 'PEOPLE'S CAR'

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 19.—A new popular and inexpensive automobile, known as a "People's Car," has been brought out by the Swedish Aircraft company in Linköping. It has front-wheel drive, seats four, and weighs about 1,550 pounds. The engine is of 25 horsepower, and the maximum speed is expected to be about 100 kilometers an hour (about 60 miles). Mass production of the new car, which will cost at most 5,000 kronor, (about $1,400) will begin in 1949.

GOV. FOLSOM SAYS ATTENTION 'NOT SERIOUS'

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Aug. 19.—The governor of Alabama today denied his attentions toward the governor of California's 18-year-old daughter were serious.

Gov. James E. Folsom, 38, who arrived yesterday on a vacation trip, grinned when questioned by newsmen about Gov. Earl Warren's daughter, Virginia. He said:

"Serious? Well, I don't guess you should say that."

Said Virginia:

"What after all, I've only seen the governor four times."

The 6 foot 8 inch governor immediately went to the Warren Summer cottage at Santa Monica after he landed in his National Guard airplane. Gov. Warren was away on a fishing trip.

The couple recently met at a governors' convention in Salt Lake City.

Mr. Warren invited Folsom to go grunion fishing yesterday, but the governor mentioned going dancing with Virginia instead.

Folsom is the widowed father of two children and said he probably would be visiting for two days while his plane was being checked.

GREEN URGES 'WORK HOLIDAY' ELECTION DAY

AFL Leader Predicts Defeat
Of All Congressmen Who
Backed Labor Bill

GREEN BAY, Wis., Aug. 19—AFL President William Green advocated today a nationwide work holiday for 7 million 500 thousand AFL members on general election day in 1948 as part of a program to defeat congressmen who supported the Taft-Hartley labor act.

Green, who was attending the convention of the Wisconsin state federation of labor in Green Bay, said the union's political program will be planned by the AFL executive council meeting in Chicago, Sept. 8.

He said: "We will oppose the re-election of all those who voted for the Taft-Hartley act."

Green predicted that all congressmen who backed the bill would be defeated. He added that he had never seen the workers "so aroused."

When Skinny played Sitting Bull

Remember when Skinny played Sitting Bull, and his band of "bloodthirsty braves" tried to take the backyard fort? Remember your periscope, made of an old stovepipe and a couple of mirrors? You could watch "Sitting Bull" and his "Sioux warriors". Skinny had big plans, but you didn't miss a trick. Through that periscope, you could see behind the scenes, so to speak.

On a busy railroad like the Norfolk and Western you have to look behind the scenes to see what it takes to move millions of passengers and millions of tons of freight.

You'll see a panorama of vast, diversified operations — signals and traffic controls . . . bridges and bookkeeping . . . cars and chemistry . . . food and physics . . . stations, tunnels, schedules, roadbeds and advertising. You'll see taxes and finance, huge inland and ocean terminals, safety, photography, fuel, map-making, mail-carrying, police work, engineering, car classification, mathematics, great shops, purchasing, powerful locomotives and accurate scales, and hundreds of other activities not revealed in a casual glance . . . but all necessary parts of the far-reaching job it takes to move trains in the best way known.

This is the backstage scene . . . where a coordinated, smoothly working organization of 22,000 busy workers, specialists in their fields, are teamed with the most modern equipment and methods to build the service, which the Norfolk and Western proudly calls Precision Transportation.

POLITICS STILL LEADING TOPIC IN WASHINGTON

Congressmen And Other Top Leaders On Vacation But Tension Remains

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19—Politically speaking, the quiet that prevails along the Potomac today is as deceptive as a coquette's sigh. The halls of congress are silent and the dog-days hush of humid Washington is broken only by the tramp-tramp-tramp of tourists' feet, but the war drums of politics can be heard beyond the far horizon.

The conventions at which the 1948 presidential nominees will be chosen are less than a year away—and to a politician with his eye on the White House a year isn't much.

At GOP and Democratic headquarters in Washington, the experts who know the meaning of every political drumbeat have their ears attuned to Albany and Murray Bay, to Rio and to Sacramento, and to all the interim haunts of the men who are "willing" to run.

PRESIDENT Truman, of course, will be the Democratic nominee, which simplifies one problem and narrows the field in his party to vice presidential aspirants.

Over at the Republican pilot house on Connecticut avenue it's a different story. It's going to be a wide open race for the top spot. The present activities of the potential candidates are being studied with avid interest.

The men behind the GOP scenes are awaiting word of the accomplishments of Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich. at the Rio De Janeiro hemisphere security conference.

THEY KNOW that a smashing speech or statement by Vandenberg could dramatize him as a dominating figure whose shadow might fall clear across next Summer's convention.

And of course the political wisecracks are aware that Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, vacationing at Murray Bay, Quebec, is finding time between masochistic shots to polish his autumnal oratory.

Those politicians are listening eagerly for advance word of the oratorical struggle between Taft and New York's Gov. Dewey, which is about as certain to come as Christmas is.

ON THE Democratic side of the fence, the professional politicians are up their necks in analysis of the chances of those who would "consent" to run on the ticket with Mr. Truman.

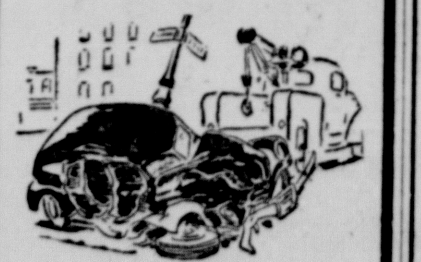

They speak of good, gray Sen. Barkley (D) Ky., majority leader in the senate throughout the new deal era; of Florida's fluent Pepper, who recently climbed aboard the Truman bandwagon, cold-shouldering Henry Wallace and his third party movement, if any; and of those geographically acceptable New Yorkers, secretary of national defense Jim Forrestal and secretary of commerce Averell Harriman.

And that's why, even in the August heat, with congress vacationing and the town ostensibly as quiet as Punkin Corners on a Sunday afternoon, the political tension in Washington remains, as usual, terrific.

BABY SITTER SURPLUS
NEW YORK, Aug. 19—Male baby sitters are not popular these days, according to City College's placement bureau. Robert J. Shotter, bureau director, said he had a surplus of 45 male baby sitters who are never called. "Mothers don't trust them with their children, even though many of them are married," Shotter said.

WORMS STUMP EXPERTS
MACON, Ga., Aug. 19—Bureau of entomology officials had red faces over green worms recently. The specialists frankly admitted that they couldn't identify the millions of small green worms which invaded yards and lawns in Macon. They seemed to be harmless enough, as no damage to gardens or crops was reported.

LO, THE POOR INDIAN
SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 19—Police in Salt Lake City have given up their efforts to identify a skeleton found by two youths Dr. Clarence R. Openshaw, city physician, tentatively decided the skeleton was that of a woman, and police had combed missing persons files in an effort to determine the identity. The search was abandoned, however, after three University of Utah anthropologists had been called into the case. After a careful examination, they declared the skeleton was that of a male Indian which had been buried more than 200 years.

It Pays the Farmer to Pay
BY CHECK

After the farmer receives his harvest money there may be long months during which he has constantly to pay out money while taking in very little. The best way for the farmer to pay is by check. With his money safe in the bank he can meet obligations conveniently and at the same time keep an accurate record of expenditures. Also, by maintaining a checking account the farmer builds credit for seasonal and other needs.
